Choice Poetry.

BEYOND THE RIVER.

Time is a river deep and wide;
And while along its banks we stray,
We see our loved ones o'er the tide
Sail from our sight away, away.
Where are they sped—they who return
No more to glad our longing eyes?
They've passed from life's contracted bourne,
To land unseen, unknown, that lies
Beyond the river.

'Tis hid from view: but we may guess
How beautiful that realm must be,
For gleamings of its loveliness,
In visions granted, oft we see.
The very clouds that never throw
Their veils unraised for mortal sight,
With gold and purple tintings glow,
Reflected from the glorious light
Beyond the river.

And gentle airs, so sweet, so calm,
Steal sometimes from the viewless sphere;
The mourner feels their breath of balm,
And soothed sorrow dries the tear.
And sometimes list'ning ear may gain
Entrancing sound that hither floats
The echo of a distant strain,
Of harps and voices blending notes,
Beyond the river.

There are our loved ones in the rest!
They've crossed Time's river—now no more
They heed the bubbles on its breast,
Nor feel the storms that sweep its shore.
But there pure love can live, can rest—
They look for us their homes to share!
When we in turn away have passed,
What joyful greetings wait us there
Beyond the river.

Miscellaneous.

What's in a Kiss?

'Mother, mother, kiss!' pleaded a little cherub boy, with blue eyes, anxiously searching his mother's unusually serious face, as she tenderly laid him upon his soft, warm bed, and lovingly folded the snowy drapery about him. 'Do kiss me, mother!' And the rosy lips began to tremble, the tear drops to gather in the pleading, upturned eyes, and the little bosom heaved with struggling emotion.

'My little son has been naughty to-day,' replied the mother, sadly: 'how can I kiss those lips that have spoken such angry words?'

Too much, too much! Dutiful mother, relent! The little heart is swelling, breaking with grief; tumultuous sobs break from the agitated bosom; the snow white pillow is drenched with penitent tears, and the little dimpled hand is extended so imploringly. Relent!

'Tis enough! Once more the little head is pillowed upon the maternal bosom—once more the little cherub form is pressed to that mother's aching heart, and the good night kiss of forgiveness and love is given two-fold tenderer. A few moments and the sobbings cease, the golden head droops, the weary eyelids close, and the little erring one is laid back upon his couch, penitent and humbled by one kiss from mamma.

What's in a kiss—a simple kiss? Much, very much! More potent than the sceptre—dearer to affection than countless wealth. Who has not felt its magic influence? 'Tis the lover's tender pledge of undying constancy; 'tis a band of friendship and fidelity; and not only is it dear to the youthful and ardent, but also to old age, to the withered heart and bloomless cheek.

The Lonely Cottager.—A pious cottager residing in the centre of a long and dreary heath, was asked by a Christian visitor, 'Are you not sometimes afraid in your lonely situation, especially in winter?' She replied, 'O no, sir, for faith shuts the door at night and mercy opens it in the morning.' Cottagers, what are your feelings on retiring to rest? Do they afford similar confidence to this poor believer, and with her do you also say 'faith shuts the door at night, and mercy opens it in the morning?'

☞A gentleman of nervous temperament once called on Dr. Dwight, President of Yale College. One of the doctor's boys was rather boisterous, and pestered the nervous gentleman somewhat, whereupon he said to him, 'My boy, if you will keep still while I am talking to your father, I will give you a dollar.' Instantly the boy hushed down, gentle as a sleeping lamb. At the close of the gentleman's remarks, he attempted to leave without giving the boy the dollar; but Dr. Dwight was too fast for him. He put a dollar into the man's hand, saying, 'You promised my boy a dollar for good behavior. Give him that, as you promised. If, sir, we lie, our children will be liars.'

☞Soon after Whitefield landed in Boston, on his second visit to this country, he and Dr. Chauncy met in the street, and, touching their hats with courteous dignity, bowed each to the other. 'So you have returned, Dr. Whitefield, have you?' He replied, 'Yes, reverend sir, in the service of the Lord.' 'I am sorry to hear it,' said Chauncy. 'So is the devil!' was the answer given, as the two divines, stepping aside at a distance from each other, touched their hats and passed on.

☞To do ill in any circumstance, is the effect of a corrupt heart. To do well, when there is nothing to fear, is the merit of a common man; but to do well when a man exposes himself thereby to the greatest dangers, is peculiar to the truly virtuous.

☞The following toast was recently given at a ladies' fair:

'Woman, the morning-star of infancy; the day-star of manhood; the evening star of old age—may we bask in their influence till we are sky high.'

A Hard Joke.

The Mobile Advertiser tells the following good story of a notorious practical joker in that city, yclept 'Straight back Dick:'

Dick was at the wharf one day last week, when one of the up-river boats arrived, looking, doubtless, for some unwary individual upon whom to exercise his talent. He watched closely the countenance of each passenger as he stepped from the plank upon the wharf, and at length fastened his gaze upon an individual who, from his appearance and manners, was considerably nearer Mobile that he had ever been before. He was evidently ill at ease, and had probably heard the reports which were rife in the country, relative to the hundreds who were dying in Mobile every hour from yellow fever. The man started off towards Dauphin street, carpet-sack in hand; but he had not proceeded far when a heavy hand was laid upon his shoulder, and he suddenly stopped. Upon turning round he met the cold, serious countenance of Dick, and it seemed to send a thrill or terror throughout his whole frame. After looking at him steadily for about a minute, Dick slowly ejaculated:

'Yes, you are the man. Stand straight!'

With fear visible in his countenance, the poor man essayed to do as commanded.

'Straighter yet!' said Dick, 'There, that will do,' and taking from his pocket a small tape measure, he stooped down and measured him from the toe of his boot to the crown of his hat, took a pencil and carefully noted the height in his pocket-book, to the utter amazement of the stranger; and after which he measured him across the shoulders and again noted the dimensions. He then looked the stranger firmly in the face and said:

'Sir, I am very sorry that it is so, but I really will not be able to finish it for you before morning.'

'Finish what?' asked the stranger, endeavoring in vain to appear calm.

'Why, your coffin, to be sure! You see, I am the city undertaker, and the people are dying here so fast that I can hardly supply the demand for coffins. You will have to wait until your turn comes, which will be to-morrow morning—say about 9 o'clock.'

'But what the d—l do I want with a coffin! I have no idea of dying.'

'You havn't, eh? Sir, you will not live two hours and a half. I see it in your countenance. Why, even now, you have a pain—a slight pain—in your back.'

'Y-yes, I believe I h-have,' replied the trembling Hosier.

'Exactly,' said Dick, 'and in your limbs, too!'

'Yes, stranger, you're right; and I begin to feel it in the back of my neck and head.'

'Of course you do, and unless you do something for it you'll be dead in a short time, I assure you. Take my advice, now—go back aboard the boat, swallow down a gill of brandy, get into your state room and cover up with blankets. Lay there until you perspire freely, then leave here like lightning!'

Hoosier hurried on board the boat and followed Dick's instructions to the letter. On Monday he was met by a gentleman at Citronelle, to whom he related his wonderful escape from death by yellow fever, even after preparations were being made to procure his coffin. He says he will never forget the kindness of the tall man in Mobile who gave him such good advice.

No Surprise.

The other day, a lady who loved her liege lord, thought, as it was near Christmas, that she might make him a fine present. So off she went and bought a beautiful article at one of our variety stores.—When her husband came home to tea, she called him into the parlor, and said, 'Husband, I have got such a delightful surprise for you; look what a nice present I've bought you.' Her spouse replied, with a slightly grim smile, 'It is very nice, my dear, and I thank you for it, but it is no surprise, for I just paid the bill a few moments ago!'

☞A mischievous boy, having got possession of his grandfather's spectacles, privately took out the glasses. When the old gentleman put them on, finding he could not see, he exclaimed: 'Mercy on me, I've lost my sight! but thinking the impediment to vision might be the dirtiness of the glasses, took them off to wipe them, when, not feeling them, he, still more frightened, cried out: 'Why, what's come now? Why, I've lost my feeling, too!'

☞What an exceedingly ingenious way, says a letter from the newly discovered country, the ladies of Japan have introduced, in order to keep parents and husbands from knowing what they may write; for the men and women write with entirely different letters or characters, and hence cannot read each other's letters. The reason for this was, that women could not thus know anything of the business matters of their husbands. But the women seem rather to have the advantage.

DIVINE LOVE.—On one occasion the Rev. Rowland Hill was endeavoring to convey to his hearers by a variety of illustrations, some idea of his conceptions of the divine love; but suddenly casting his eyes toward heaven, he exclaimed—'But I am unable to reach the lofty theme! yet do I think the smallest fish that swims in the boundless ocean ever complains of the immeasurable vastness of the deep? So it is with me; I can plunge, with my puny capacity, into a subject the immensity of which I shall never be able fully to comprehend!'

"The Sea Shall Give Up its Dead."

The Cleveland Plaindealer, in its report of Prof. Maury's lecture in that city, on the "Highways and Byways of the Ocean," says that a Savan announced the startling fact that animal matter at the bottom of the deep sea, owing to the superincumbent pressure, the exclusion of light and heat and the saline properties of the water, could not decompose, but must remain precisely in the state in which it is deposited for ages and ages. So that Pharaoh and his host, when the last trump shall sound and the sea shall give up its dead, will come forth fresh in feature and perfect in form as when in pursuit of the Children of Israel they were engulphed by the waves of the Red Sea. This conclusion is reached by numerous ingenious experiments, one of which was the sinking of a cannon ball, through which was an apparatus for grappling sediment from the bottom, in which sediment were found remains of animal life, fresh as when extinct, such as clam and other smaller specimens of shell fish.

A Negro Sentinel.

Theodore Parker, in a recent lecture on Washington, at Boston, repeated the following anecdote, related to him by an old soldier, who vouched for its truth:

At Cambridge, Gen. Washington had heard that the colored soldiers were not to be depended upon for sentries. So one night, when the pass word was 'Cambridge,' he went outside the camp, put on an overcoat, and then approached a colored sentinel. 'Who goes there?' cried the sentinel. 'A friend,' replied Washington. 'Friend, advance unarmed, and give the countersign,' said the colored man. Washington came up and said 'Roxbury' 'No, sar!' was the response. 'Medford,' said Washington. 'No, sar!' returned the colored soldier.—'Charlestown,' said Washington. The colored man immediately exclaimed, 'I tell you, Massa Washington, no man go by here 'out he say Cambridge.' Washington said 'Cambridge,' and went by, and the colored gentleman was relieved of all further necessity for attending to that particular branch of military duty.

The Art of not Quarreling.

Sensible Husband.—How is it we never quarrel, Mrs. Xantippe! Well, I will tell you. You see, for a quarrel, and for especially a good quarrel, it is necessary to have two persons. One person can't make a quarrel. Now, if I am in a quarrelsome humor, and break out, my wife remains cool and collected, and does'nt say a word. If my wife is peevish, and displays more temper than is becoming to one of her beautiful sex, I, her husband, remain as unmoved as a monument, or else cheat myself into the belief that I am listening, for the moment, to one of Grisi's heavenly songs. Thus, whilst one party is volcanically fuming, the other is as calm as a cold potato. We only quarrel one at a time; and it is astonishing, if you leave a quarrel alone, how soon it dies out.

Over Eating.

How many people eat to make it even. All the butter is gone, but the bread is not quite eaten, so another piece of butter is taken; but it was too much, and the bread has given out!

How many a time has the reader eaten some remnant on his plate, not because he wanted it, but to prevent its being wasted! How often have you eaten as much as you wanted, and were about pushing back from the table, when very unexpectedly a new dish, or splendid-looking pudding, dumpling, or pie, is presented, and you immediately 'set to,' and before you are done, have eaten almost as much bulk as you had done before.

Many a time have you gone down to the table, not only without an appetite, but with almost a feeling of aversion to food; and yet you tasted this, and that, and the other, and before you were aware of it, you had 'made out' a considerable supper!

All these practices are wasteful, hurtful and beastly—no, we recall that; we are doing Mr. Pig an injustice; for, like all other respectable animals, when he 'is done,' he 'quits'—a thing which rational man seldom does.—Hall's Journal of Health.

How It Strengthened Him.

A student of one of our State Colleges, had a barrel of ale deposited in his room—contrary of course to the rule and usage. He received a summons to appear before the President, who said:

'Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room.'

'Yes, sir.'

'Well, what explanation can you make?'

'Why, the fact is, sir, that my physician advises me try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to stop at the various places where the beverage is retailed, I concluded to have a barrel taken to my room.'

'Indeed. And have you derived any benefit from the use of it?'

'Ah, yes, sir. When the barrel was first taken to my room, two days since, I could scarcely lift it. Now I can carry it with the greatest ease.'

The witty student was discharged with a special reprimand.

☞A French engineer was traveling upon a Ohio steamboat. He examined the boiler, and took occasion to remark that it was in a very bad condition. 'That's so,' answered the captain. 'How long do you expect to use it?' 'Till it bursts!' was the cool reply. After the next landing-place, there was one Frenchman less on board that boat.

Sleeping with the Landlord's Wife.

We give the annexed incident in regard to Rev. Zeb Twitchell, a Methodist clergyman in full and regular standing, and a member of the Vermont conference:

At one time he represented Stockbridge in the State Legislature. Zeb, says our informant, is a man of fair talents, both as a preacher and a musician. In the pulpit he is grave, solemn, dignified, and a thorough systematic sermonizer; but out of it there is no man living who is more full of fun and drollery. On one occasion he was wending his way towards the seat of the Annual Conference of Ministers, in company with another clergyman. Passing a country inn, he remarked to the other clergyman—

'The last time I stopped at that tavern, I slept with the landlord's wife.'

In utter amazement, his clerical friend wanted to know what he meant.

'I mean just what I say,' replied Zeb; and on went the two travelers in unbroken silence until they reached the conference.

In the early part of the session, the conference sat with doors closed for the purpose of transacting some private business, and especially to attend to the annual examination of each member's private character, or rather conduct, during the past year. For this purpose the clerk called Zeb's name.

'Does any one know aught against the character of brother Twitchell during the past year?' asked the bishop, who was the presiding officer.

After a moment's silence, Zeb's traveling companion arose with a heavy heart and grave countenance; said he had a duty to perform—one that he owed to God and the church, and to himself; he must therefore discharge it fearlessly, though tremblingly. He then related what Zeb had told him while passing the tavern, bow he slept with the landlord's wife, etc.

The grave body of ministers were struck as with a thunderbolt, although a few smiled and looked first at Zeb, then upon the bishop, knowingly, for they knew better than the others the character of the accused.

The bishop called upon brother T., and asked him what he had to say in relation to so serious a charge. Zeb rose and said:

'I did the deed! I never lie!'

Then pausing with an awful seriousness, he proceeded with a slow and solemn deliberation:

'There was one little circumstance, however, connected with the affair, I did not name to the brother. It may not have much weight with the conference, but although it may be deemed of trifling importance, I will state it: 'When I slept with the landlord's wife, as I told the brother, I kept the tavern myself!'

The Slaves of the Echo.

Dr. RAINY, the Government agent who accompanied the recaptured Africans from Charleston to Liberia, has published a letter giving some interesting incidents of the voyage. He states that the ship was forty-eight days from Charleston to Monrovia, and during this time seventy-one out of the 271 the ship took on board died. They delivered 200 to the Colonization Society's agency, which had large and commodious accommodations for them, where they were well taken care of by intelligent and good men as agents, physicians, &c. Four of the number landed had died before the Niagara had left.

"Dr. Rainey says the negroes appeared generally a stupid and listless set of heathens. A few manifested signs of sprightliness, and were very active. Most of them would lie from day to day like cattle upon the deck, unmoved even by the death of companions and brothers all around them. Except in a few cases they manifested no sympathy, no tenderness, no appreciation of one another's woes, and never so much as turned their hands over in relief. During the passage they sang in perfect time many wild and highly awakening songs, and especially pleased us in their choruses, which at times wound up with a wild and really thrilling effect. They constantly got into fights, but never gave a blow. It was a senseless pull and tug for hours together, while the parties to the fray would cry and complain like children. They seemed by no means destructive in their propensities. There were four hundred and fifty-five originally shipped from the mouth of the Congo river. Most of them were Congos, some Kabendas, some Miquombas, many from the interior tribes of the provinces of Loando and Loango; while there are probably fifteen tribes in all. The Kabendas are by far the most intelligent."

☞The Germans in the United States publish at present more than two hundred periodical papers. During the present year more than twenty new ones have been established, most of them in the West. The number of religious papers is about thirty, ten of which belong to the Lutherans, five to the Roman Catholics, three to the Methodists. The Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Episcopalians, Universalists and Unitarians publish, as far as we know, no German paper, neither do the Spiritualists. A large number of German papers have been established from time to time which were professedly anti-religion. But most of them have had only a short existence, and while the number of German papers generally is rapidly increasing, the number of professedly anti-religious papers has considerably decreased.

Baked Beans.—A correspondent, who has traveled in Italy, says that one of the interesting novelties in that country was baked beans, carried hot from the oven and sold in the streets at almost all hours of the day. He tried them as a matter of curiosity at first, and found them very delicious when eaten with butter, salt and pepper.—Thousands buy and eat them thus, and not unfrequently make up an entire meal in this way.

☞That was a beautiful idea expressed by a Christian lady on her death-bed. In reply to a remark of her brother who was taking leave of her to return to his distant residence, that he should probably never again meet her in the land of the living, she answered: "Brother, I trust we shall meet in the land of the living. We are now in the land of the dying."

☞A man in Troy, who wanted a sewing machine, sold his wife for the purpose of obtaining it! He found that she had discovered an 'affinity' in one of his friends, and, like a shrewd dealer, he at once traded her off to that 'affinity' for a sewing machine and a little cash, offering to throw in a child or two 'rather than have any talk about it.'

☞A clergyman observing a poor man by the road breaking stones with a pick axe and kneeling to get at his work better, made the remark:

"Ah, John, I wish I could break the stony hearts of my hearers as easily as you are breaking these stones."

The man replied, "Perhaps you do not work on your knees."

☞'You look,' said an Irishman to a pale, haggard smoker, "as if you had got out of your grave to light your cigar, and couldn't find your way back again."

☞'Put out your tongue a little further,' said a physician to a female patient, a little further, ma'am, if you please—a little further still.' 'Why, doctor, do you think there is no end to a woman's tongue?' cried the fair invalid.

☞Pat Doolon, at Inkerman, bowed his head to a cannon ball, which whizzed past six inches above his bearded chin.

'Faith,' says Pat, 'one never loses anything by politeness.'

☞Politicians make fools of themselves; pettifoggers make fools of others, and pretty girls make fools of both.

☞The sweetest bedfellow is conscience. Ah, it is a charming thing to feel her at one's heart—to hear her evening song and her morning hymn.

☞There are some men whose opposition can be reckoned upon against everything that has not emanated from themselves.

Singular Case.—The Altoona (Pa.) Tribune notices a remarkable cure of deafness, by electricity. A citizen of that place suddenly lost his hearing, and after every means known to the fraternity had been exhausted, electricity was resorted to. An instrument was produced, and placing the end of a piece of wire in each ear, the electric current was let on lightly at first, and gradually increased. After continuing the operation for some time, the hearing of the man was so much restored that he could hear a heavy rap upon the table. Again the wires were inserted in his ears and the fluid applied. On removing them the second time, the patient could hear loud talking in the room. This operation took place in the afternoon, and the patient was allowed to rest until the next morning, when the wires were again inserted, and after applying the fluid for a few minutes, the hearing of the man was perfectly restored.

Working up Sawdust.—The ingenuity of Parisian cabinet-makers, in the Faubourg St. Antoine, has found a use for common sawdust which raises the value of that commodity far above the world of solid timber. By a new process, combining the hydraulic press and the application of intense heat, these wooden particles are made to re-form themselves into a solid mass, capable of being moulded into any shape, and presenting a brilliant surface, a durability and beauty of appearance not found in ebony, rosewood, or mahogany.

Burlesque.—One of the funniest things got up in New York lately was the excursion of an auger association, in burlesque of the target excursions. Each man carries an auger instead of a gun, a Calathumpian band accompanies them, and the exercises consist in walking blindfolded to the target and boring a hole through it.—Not one man in twenty can do it, and the blunders that are made cause a great deal of sport.

A Useful Hint.—The difference between rising every morning at six and eight in the course of 40 years amounts to 29,390 hours, or three years, one hundred and twenty-one days and sixteen hours, which are equal to eight hours a day for exactly ten years; so that rising at six will be the same as if ten years of life were added, wherein we may command eight hours every day for the cultivation of our minds and the dispatch of business.

Shipwreck of the Nicaragua Fillibusters, and their Return upon a British war steamer.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2.—The correspondent of the Associated Press sends the following, dated Balize, British Honduras, December 20:

The Susan was wrecked on Glover's coral reef, sixty miles from Balize, on the morning of the 16th December. The passengers were all saved, but the vessel was a total loss. Capt. Maury endeavored to charter another vessel to carry his passengers on. Gov. Seymour, of British Honduras, tendered the British war-steamer Basilisk to convey the passengers to any Southern port of the United States. An American captain circulated prejudicial reports to their detriment, but the Governor chose to regard them only as shipwrecked citizens of a friendly nation, and offered every assistance. The passengers will return either to Mobile or New Orleans.

MOBILE, Jan. 2.—The British war-steamer Basilisk arrived in the bay this morning from Balize, Honduras, with one hundred of the shipwrecked passengers of the schooner Susan, who were taken on board on the 26th ultimo at Balize by order of Gov. Seymour. They were treated while on board the Basilisk with the utmost kindness by the officers, who supplied them with every necessary article of clothing, food, &c.

LATER.—The passengers have been landed. A procession was formed, and they were escorted to comfortable quarters, where the Nicaraguan flag was hoisted. Capt Maury was called out and made a speech. The crowd was immense, and great excitement prevailed.

A Husband Makes his Wife Believe He has taken Arsenic.

The Cincinnati Times tells this story as an 'actual fact.' A day or two since, rather a hard case took into his head to terribly frighten his wife, and at the same time see if she cared as much as she ought to about him. He accordingly purchased some arsenic, at a drug store over the Rhine, with which he proceeded toward home. On the way, however, he threw the arsenic away, but retained the paper which contained it, on which was printed the word 'arsenic.'

After he got home, he went to bed, previously placing the paper on a stand beside him, so that it would not fail to meet the eye of his wife, who shortly noticed it, and asked him rather coolly if he had swallowed the arsenic. He made reply that he had, and that he didn't suppose he could live half an hour.

The wife merely remarked that she didn't suppose he was such a big fool as to kill himself, but she reckoned it couldn't be helped now—it was no use in getting her feet wet in going for a doctor, as she didn't suppose he could do any good if he come.

The husband jumped from the bed in a rage, and told her he had only made believe he had taken poison to try her affection for him, and he was now perfectly convinced that grief for his death would never kill her. So enraged was he that he struck her, and raised such a disturbance that the neighbors came in, and had him arrested; and the result was, that he was taken before Judge Pruden, and sentenced to a term of imprisonment for committing an assault and battery upon his wife, who simply declined going into hysterics, in expectation of his sudden death.

A Murder Revealed by a Dream.

A miraculous discovery of a horrible murder is related by a Belgian journal of a recent date, of which we make a summary: Two brothers, Jews, set out from Gyek with a view of placing their two daughters at a boarding school in the town of Grosswardein. During the night of their absence, the youngest daughter, aged ten, who was left at home, woke up her mother suddenly during the night, and crying bitterly, declared that she saw her father and uncle, and all being murdered. The mother, for some time, took no notice of the child's declaration, but, as she persisted, and would not be pacified, she began to be alarmed herself, and the next morning took the child before the Mayor of the town, to whom she declared her dream, stating at the same time that the murderers were two men living in the neighborhood, whom she deliberately pointed out, and further added that the murder was committed at the entrance of the forest, on the road to Grosswardein.

The Mayor, after receiving this revelation, thought it prudent to make inquiry after the two neighbors indicated by the child, when, singular enough, they were discovered to be absent from home. This suspicious circumstance induced the Mayor to dispatch some officers to the forest alluded to by the child, who discovered the horrible spectacle of five bodies extended on the ground, which were those of the two brothers, the two daughters, and the driver of the vehicle in which they all took their departure. The corpses appeared to have all been set on fire, so as to destroy their identity, and the vehicle was nowhere discovered. This horrible tragedy led the officers to examine the whole neighborhood, when they fortunately pounced upon the two neighbors at a fair not far distant, as they were in the very act of changing some notes on which some spots of blood were visible. On being seized they immediately confessed their crime, and on the child's dream being revealed to them, acknowledged the finger of Providence displayed in their capture. This wonderful dream on the part of the child, and its fulfillment, excited an immense sensation in the neighborhood.

☞A case of dreadful destitution is mentioned in the Cincinnati papers. A woman was found stretched on dirty straw in a stable, clasping to her bosom a child apparently about two months old, and vainly endeavoring to give it sustenance, but, instead, it drew nothing but blood from her exhausted breasts. The woman was apparently not more than thirty-five years old, although the mother of seven children, all of whom were with her in the miserable hovel where she was found. She had been well raised, and had seen better days, much better—she could not have seen worse days—and, until a period of two years after her marriage, had known no want. But her husband yielded to an appetite for liquor, became first a drunkard, then a sot, and finally abandoned her.

☞The amount of taxes annually collected in Cuba is $28,000,000, which is equal to about $45 for every inhabitant.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, JAN. 10, 1859.

One Word More!

Two or three weeks ago we made an earnest appeal to those indebted to us to come to our assistance in certain payments we had to make. This appeal has been heeded by but a very few, and they have our hearty thanks therefor. Now, it is a most unpleasant thing for us to dun; but the necessity is imposed upon us. We have upwards of three hundred dollars to pay by the middle of next week for paper, which has been positively promised by that time, and we do think it very hard, out of the thousands due us, that we should be under the unpleasant necessity of asking again for as much as will enable us to redeem our pledge. The sum to each is small, and can and ought to be forthcoming—the aggregate to us highly important. Now we do hope that when this paragraph reaches the eye of those indebted to us, they will, during this week, or the beginning of next, by their neighbors coming to Court, or by mail, at our risk, forward to us the amount due us, and not place us in the unpleasant position of breaking our pledged faith.—We trust no one will wait upon his neighbor, or depend upon him to furnish it to us. That is the great inconvenience to publishers of newspapers in the country—their patrons wait for each other to help the printer out; and, in consequence, his movements are crippled. We do hope this paragraph may not be in vain.

☞Rev. Mr. WERNER will deliver a Lecture before the Y. M. Christian Association, in the Presbyterian Church, on Friday evening next. His subject—"Signs of the Times."

☞Mr. J. M. WALTER has been re-appointed, by the Commissioners, Mercantile Appraiser for the present year.

☞We are gratified to observe, that our late townsman, JOHN PICKING, Esq. has received the situation of Transcribing Clerk. Few men can do its duties better.

Sales of Property.

The residence of the late John Garvin, Esq., was sold a few days ago, by the agent of Conrad Baker, Esq., to John Houck, Esq., and Hon. E McPherson, for $2,000 cash.

Mr. Jacob Lott, Sen., has purchased the farm of Mr. Benjamin Deardorff, on Marsh creek, in Cumberland township—173 acres, for $3,000.

Mr. Solomon Zorbaugh has sold the property recently purchased by him of the estate of J. B. McPherson, deceased, on Carlisle street, to Messrs. D. McConaughy and John Horner, receiving $1,300—$100 more than the price he got it at.

Gen. Wm. F. Walter's farm, in Butler township, has been sold to Mr. John Hoover, at $17.25 per acre.

Another Railroad.

The citizens of East Berlin have taken it into their heads to make a Railroad from that place to New Oxford, and have engaged J. S. Gitt, Esq., civil engineer, to make a preparatory survey of the route.

☞The Hanoverians are talking very confidently of introducing gas into that town. Our borough should make an attempt of the same kind—and then have the telegraph. What say our moneyed men?

Convention of Teachers

We are requested to say that there will be a Teachers' Convention in Gettysburg on the 10th, 11th, and 12th of February next.. When the arrangements are completed, due notice will be given.

☞A new Brass Band has been organized in this place, under the cognomen of "The People's Band." They have a new and splendid set of instruments, and are under the lead of a competent teacher from abroad. The fact of our Town being able to furnish two fine Bands, is creditable to it.

☞There was a great deal of injury done to fruit trees in this region of country during the sleet of week before last. In the northern part of the county, particularly, we hear of much damage. Mr. JOEL WRIGHT, of Menallen, was very much injured by a limb of a tree in his yard falling upon him He has been in a critical condition, but hopes of his recovery are entertained.

☞There are about thirty persons confined in the jail of Cumberland county, charged with various crimes. Pretty considerable number for our neighboring County! We will not venture to compete with them in this particular.

☞The Senate of the U. States took possession of their new and splendid hall on Tuesday last. There was an immense crowd in the galleries. Vice President Breckenridge delivered an address on the occasion, which is said to have been the most impressive and oratorical effort of his life. The effect of its delivery upon the great men within ear-shot was magical.—It was pronounced one of the greatest achievements of the kind known to the public history of the confederacy.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

Both branches of the State Legislature assembled at Harrisburg on Tuesday last.

The Senate met at 3 o'clock in the afternoon—all the members in their seats—That body immediately proceeded to the election of their officers, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen—all Democrats—that party having a majority of one:

Speaker—John Creswell, Jr., of Blair county.

Chief Clerk—Wm. H. Miller, of Harrisburg.

Transcribing Clerks—Messrs. Africa, A J. Burr, and Wm. S. Picking.

Assistant Clerk—L. M. Hutchison.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Theophilus Snyder.

Doorkeeper—Charles Wolfe.

The House of Representatives met at 12 o'clock, and was called to order by Major Ziegler, the late Clerk. The roll of the members was then called, and the House went into the election of Speaker. Only one ballot was had, which resulted as follows:

W. C. A. Lawrence, of Dauphin, (People)	67
P. C. Gritman, of Luzerne, (Dem.)	32

Mr. Lawrence was conducted to the Chair by Messrs. Gritman and McClure, and delivered the following address:

Representatives of Pennsylvania:

The duties of this office are difficult and laborious; and I would assume them with great reluctance, conscious of the weakness which results from my youth and inexperience, were I not encouraged by the hope and belief that I shall be sustained by your kindness and forbearance.

No President of a large, deliberative body, of himself can maintain order in the transaction of its business. Where the interests and opinions of men and sections are brought into frequent and violent collision, nothing but the patriotism and courtesy of members can insure harmony. It is beyond the power of the Speaker. The character of this House depends upon you, gentlemen, and not upon him whom you have chosen to preside over your deliberations. Yet high obligations are devolved upon me, and I shall not shrink from them.

The State of Pennsylvania has just passed a terrible crisis and entered a new epoch in her history. Having divorced herself from all her public works, having no large domain under her care, the duties of the Legislature are simple and few. We have a system of jurisprudence which justly commands the respect and admiration of the world. Let it be touched with great care, prudently correcting manifest error, yet not precipitating upon the people innovations which may be still more injurious.

The industrial interests of society must be protected. The immense natural wealth of the State should be developed When individual power may be inefficient, aggregations of capital with limited powers, carefully guarded, should be encouraged. And lastly, the great moral interests of society should be borne prominently in mind.—Christianity is a part of the common law of the land, and in all our actions and counsels this should control and direct us.

I fully appreciate the compliment of being selected to fill this high office, and I shall do my duty.

The oath of office was then administered to him by Mr. Gritman, and afterwards the members of the House were severally sworn, and took their seats.

☞The following officers of the House have been chosen:

Speaker—Mr. Lawrence, of Dauphin.

Clerk—Samuel J. Rea, of Philadelphia.

Assistant—Mr. Holcomb, of Bradford.

Transcribing Clerks—John Picking, of Adams, E. H. Rauch, of Carbon, Mr. Foster of Carbon, and Mr. Gilfinnin, of Mercer.

Sergeant-at-Arms—John Fleming, of Washington

Doorkeeper—John C Morgan.

☞The members of the "People's Party" in the Legislature, had a caucus, previous to the vote in the House, to settle upon candidates for the different offices.—For Speaker, there were three ballots.—Mr. McClure had 23, 24, and 30; Mr. Lawrence 29, 30, and 34—thus giving him the caucus nomination. It was sustained in the House at the regular election.

Canal Commissioner.

On Wednesday last, in the House of Representatives, Col. McClure, of Franklin county, offered a bill providing for the abolition of the office of Canal Commissioner, which was passed at once by a vote of 94 yeas to 6 nays. The six who voted against the bill are all Democrats. There is no doubt of its passage by the Senate.

☞Both branches of the Legislature adjourned on Thursday last until 3 o'clock today.

☞Mount Hope school-house, in Hamiltonban township, was burnt to the ground on Wednesday night last—the result of accident from a defective flue. The books of the scholars were also consumed.

☞The freight and passenger business on the Gettysburg Railroad is still on the increase, and an unexpectedly encouraging revenue is being derived. On Tuesday evening the locomotive brought up a train of seventeen cars, passengers and freight.

☞The Express business on the Gettysburg Railroad is "looking up" handsomely. A package containing ten thousand dollars was passed over the route the other day.—Messrs. SHEADS, BUEHLER & KURTZ are the Agents here—office in their new building, on the corner of Carlisle street and the Railroad.

☞Rev. J. ULRICH, pastor of the Lutheran congregation of Shippensburg, has resigned his charge, desiring to retire from the ministry to the shades and quietude of private life. It is said the church has refused to accept of his resignation.

Governor's Message.

This document was sent in to the Legislature on Wednesday. We received it at too late an hour to publish it this week, and content ourselves with the following brief abstract of its contents:

The finances of the State are represented to be in a very satisfactory condition, the receipts of the Treasury during the past year, being more than a million over the expenditures. The whole debt of the State is $39,268,111 16. Eleven millions of which is secured by bonds received from the sale of the Public Works. With the present income of the Treasury, the debt may be decreased one million during the present year.

The sale of the Public Works is approved, and the completion of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad, within two years, rendered probable. There is no further necessity for the Canal Board, and its abolition is recommended.

The Public School System is recommended to the attention of the Legislature.—During the past year there have been 628,-201 pupils taught in 11,281 schools by 13,856 teachers, at an expense of $2,427,-632 41.

The Governor recommends a separate department of the Government to have charge of the Public Schools He is opposed to any increase of banks, or banking capital, and affirms the power of the Legislature to revoke the charter of a bank, when its continuance may be injurious to the people.—He will not give his approval to any bill chartering a new bank, unless the system be changed. The notes of all banks should be secured by pledges of State stocks, and a law should be passed, authorizing new State loans to redeem the present overdue debt, with the banking privilege attached. The method of keeping the public money should be changed, so that the State Treasurer should not make deposits without requiring security for their repayment; all checks issued by the State Treasurer to be countersigned by the Auditor General, and daily accounts of moneys received and paid to be kept in the Auditor General's office.

The Governor approves of the President's recommendation of specific duties, and urges the importance of incidental protection to manufactures; he deprecates the encroachments of Federal power, and the tendency to centralization, and approves of the doctrine of popular sovereignty.

Senators Douglas and Jones.

A difficulty has occurred between Senators Douglas and Jones, concerning a land grant to an Iowa railroad, in reference to which Mr. Douglas made a statement.—This was denied by one of the attaches of Senator Jones. Mr. Douglas wrote a letter to Washington City, in which he reiterates the statement, and brands the denial of it again as a villainous falsehood.. It is said that Mr. Jones has written a letter to Mr. Douglas, which, to sum it up in brief, gives him the lie flatly. Trouble is apprehended whenever Mr. Douglas shall arrive at Washington.

Trouble Among the Saints.

The advices from Utah state that the Saints are in trouble among themselves.—Dates to Nov. 18 inform us that about 350 of the brethren and sisters are cast out of the Mormon fold. The precise nature of the affair is not known, but it is said to be on account of the "affinity" shown by the females to the troops, which are quartered at no great distance from the Mormons. Brigham Young evidently intends to make a fearful example at the outset.—It is also said that there are several hundred discharged teamsters at the Mormon settlement, who knock round with perfect looseness, who don't care a copper for the whole brotherhood of the church, but who manifest particular regards for the sisters, who, in many instances, are not loth to receive attention from these roysterring gentiles. They freely express their opinion about Brigham, and the other elders; they enter buildings, and if a brother objects to their familiarity with his wives they end the matter by bundling the objector out of his own house into the street.—Their conduct is so outrageous that Brigham is anxious now to have a U. S. military patrol, although but a twelve month since he pronounced all the anathemas imaginable against our soldiers.

☞The New York Herald sums up a review of the gold fields of the United States, with the following estimate of our future gold crop: "California gives us a million a week. All the other fields, we can safely say with what facts we already have, will give us at least half as much.—Our gold crop is therefore likely to be for years to come at the rate of a million and a half per week, or seventy seven millions of dollars per annum—equal to one-half of the value of the cotton crop of the country."

Land Slide on the Pennsylvania Railroad.—At Huntingdon, Pa., a few days since, several tons of rock slid from a quarry, and buried a portion of the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the depth of six feet. Four cars, loaded with coal which stood upon a siding at this point, were crushed to atoms.

Three Persons Drowned.—On Thursday last, as Edward Klinepeter and Samuel Ashton, aged respectively 7 and 11 years, were fishing on the dam of Robert S. King, near Duncannon, Perry county, Pa., the ice gave way, and the boys were thrown into deep water. Mrs. Klinepeter, the mother of one of them, went to their assistance, but all three were drowned.

CORNING, N. Y. Jan. 3.—A shanty, occupied by Patrick Boyle, was destroyed by fire last evening. Mrs. Boyle and her two children, one seven years of age, and the other about six months old, perished in the flames.

Outrages in Southern Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, January 5.

The Ossawatamie Kansas correspondent of the Democrat says that Capt. Hamilton, the leader of the party who committed the atrocious murders at the Chouteaus trading post last May, has taken the field in Southern Kansas with a large body of desperate men who have already committed various outrages. Mr. Bloomfield, a wealthy Free State man, charged with stealing negroes in Vernon county, Missouri, was killed—The house of Mr. Bloomfield, a wealthy Free State resident of Vernon county, was sacked and burned. It was reported that Montgomery was raising a party to repel the invasion by Hamilton, and that both parties were determined to fight.

☞The late troubles and alleged outrages in Kansas engaged the attention of the Cabinet last week—an official report of the occurrences having been received. It was determined to adopt means to bring Montgomery and Brown, the alleged leaders of the predatory bands, to speedy justice, and orders to that effect have been forwarded to the United States Marshal of the Territory. If one half that is alleged against Brown and Montgomery is true, this action should have been taken a long time ago.

☞An effort will be made at this session of Congress to reorganize a new territory, embracing the South Platte gold diggings, and portions of Kansas, Utah and Nebraska, to be called Colona.

The Committee on Ways and Means are now busily engaged in considering various plans for raising the means necessary to pay the expenses of the Government during the next fiscal year. The plan most in favor with the Committee, is an issue of Treasury Notes, and a modification of the Tariff.

It is thought that Oregon will be admitted into the Union as a State, before Congress adjourns.

☞It is stated that the French Foreign Office has heard with some surprise Mr. Buchanan's recommendation to purchase Cuba, France having previously notified the American Minister of its determination, in conjunction with England, not to tolerate the cession of Cuba to the United States, even were Spain to consent.

Detachments of French troops having advanced into Swiss territory, Switzerland has demanded explanations. There is great indignation in Switzerland.

☞It has been discovered that warrants in the city treasury of Philadelphia have been cashed twice to a large extent. A partial examination shows that the treasury has been robbed of $100,000 in this way, and by filling out warrants with larger amounts than were authorized by the city council.

☞The funeral of a little orphan girl in the care of the Sisters of Charity at Wheeling, Va., was delayed for a day in consequence of the weather. In the meantime, while one of the Sisters was arranging something about the coffin, the little girl raised up and asked for a drink of water.—It is supposed that she was in a trance, and there was nothing but the heavy rain of Monday that averted from her the horrible fate of being buried alive.

A Scamp.—Henry T. Lever has been astonishing the inmates of a private boarding house, in Petersburg, Va., by putting up there, promising to educate the son of the landlady, courting and promising to marry her sister, and finally running off with $150 worth of gold and silver trinkets, belonging to the family, including a locket borrowed to put his likeness in, and a defective watch, which he said he would make go. It did go, being, like the thief, a Lever.

Sad Affair in Toronto.—A young man named Henry Lane, of Acton, C. W., and extensively engaged in business, came to his death on Saturday morning, at Toronto, in a melancholy manner. In company with other young men he visited several saloons and became very much intoxicated. About 10 o'clock Saturday morning, he was helped to an upper room of a saloon to go to bed, but after he was left alone he fell down, his lamp set fire to the bed, and before the fire was discovered he was suffocated. When extricated he was lifeless, but his clothes were but slightly scorched. He had many valuable papers in his pockets, and was connected with families of high respectability. His night's debauch cost him his life.

☞A correspondent of the Hamilton (Canada) Spectator says, if a railroad should be built through the British dominions, to the Pacific, it would cost £50,000,000, and for six months of the year the track would be covered with snow, and with water for another four months.

A Large Estate.—The late Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, of Connecticut, left an estate valued at $800,000. By his will his son Henry received $25,000; his daughter, Mrs. R. Smith, $25,000; the heirs of his son Edward $25,000; and his wife $1,500 per year. All the rest is bequeathed to Yale College.

☞A modification of the African slave trade is about being recommended to Congress. It is proposed to abolish the death penalty, which renders the law nugatory, and proposes a less extreme but more certain punishment.

The End of an Adulteress.

One of the editors of the Hagerstown Torch Light, who was recently on a visit to Baltimore, says among other things that—

In the Baltimore Alms house there is a woman spending the evening of her days, who once filled a large but unenviable space in the public eye. We allude to Rachael Cunningham, who ensnared the affections of four husbands, and in a short time effected separations from three of them and their wives; the fourth, a former sheriff of this county, (Swearingen), sacrificed to her everything, fortune, honor, fame, and for her became a felon, and for her died a felon's death. Under an assumed name she is now eking out a miserable existence in this institution, and probably making some atonement for her lamentable conquests over connubial honor and domestic peace in early life.

☞The Legislature of Illinois, on Wednesday last, re-elected the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas U. S. Senator, by 8 majority over Mr. Lincoln. Mr. Douglas polled the entire Democratic vote.

RECRUITING.—Recruiting for the army of the United States has been so brisk the past fall that it has been decided to discontinue enlisting at Buffalo, New Haven, and several other important stations in various States. The recruiting business is still continued in Philadelphia. The applications being more numerous than the service require, the recruiting officers are enabled to select a better class of men than can be secured when there is an active demand for soldiers.

There is now at the Carlisle Barracks a large body of fine-looking men, who have been recruited in the Eastern cities. These men, as soon as they are thoroughly drilled, will be sent to the different Western forts.—Carlisle Herald.

☞Gen. Henderson, the esteemed commandant of the Marion Corps, died at Washington on Thursday, very suddenly. He was found dead in his drawing-room. He had been in excellent health up to the hour of his dissolution. He has been 53 years in the service.

☞Another counterfeit has just made its appearance—a $2 on the State Bank of Ohio. The best way to avoid being deceived, is to refuse to receive all of this denomination upon this institution.

Found Dead.

On Tuesday evening, the 27th ult, a young man named George W. Smith, was found dead in the woods of Mr. John D. Crumbaugh, about 3 miles South east of Woodsboro', Frederick county. A jury of inquest was held over the body by Justice George W. Shank, whose verdict was death from suffocation, the deceased being subject to spasms, and when found his face was deeply buried in the leaves where it is supposed he fell and smothered. He was a worthy, industrious young man, of temperate habits. He had left the house of one relative to go to that of another the day before, and was found near the road side between these points.

The Potomac Water.—The water for the supply of the public buildings and grounds was turned into the mains this morning, and at half-past two o'clock was in full play at the U. S. Capitol. The fixtures at the capitol and the marine barracks are put up by Thompson & Brother, and are of a first-rate quality. A four inch jet has been introduced into the capitol grounds, which is calculated to play 120 feet high, which is some 28 feet higher than thrown by any water works in the country. The jet on Boston Commons throws 93 feet high, through a six inch pipe. There is calculated to be about 100,000,000 of gallons of water in the great reservoir above Georgetown, and the supply is augmented daily at the rate of from two to three millions of gallons, in all respects adequate to supply the present daily demands from the public buildings now ready to receive it.—Washington Star.

☞The danger of taking hot bricks for bed-fellows was illustrated in Orono, a few nights since, when two young ladies wrapped one in a cloth to toast their feet with in the foot of the bed. They woke up in the night nearly suffocated, and found the bed on fire, the brick having burst out and burnt through five quilts, portions of the skirts lying upon the foot of the bed, a hole in the mattress, a portion of a night gown upon one of the ladies, and discolored their feet with smoke.

☞A woman rushed breathlessly into a store at St. Louis, last week, and exclaimed that a man who had insulted her in the street was in hot pursuit. Storekeeper run to the door, started up, down, and all over, and returned with the cheering announcement, 'nothing visible.' The lady thanked him gracefully, and retired; and the storekeeper only ceased to congratulate himself on becoming a knight-protector of female virtue, when he found that two hundred dollars' worth of his most valuable goods had gone with her. The woman, Sarah McCrits, was subsequently arrested.

☞A dangerous young widow of thirty, in Ludlow, (Mass.) with four dead or discarded husbands, has torn a young lad of eighteen years from his afflicted parents in the same town, and taken him to bed and board as No. 5. The parents locked up the boy, but the widow was too smart for them, got him out, and fled with him to Palmer, where they were married.

Spanish Indignation.

The Spaniards in Cuba are exceedingly indignant at the proposition of President Buchanan, to purchase Cuba. Meetings were called immediately upon the receipt of the news, and resolutions passed expressing the utmost regard for the Spanish government, and abhorrence at the idea of being under the control of the United States. The papers are boiling over with indignation at the proposition. One of them exclaims:

"Purchase the Island of Cuba! The Cabinet of Washington well knows that there is nobody to sell it, and that there is not money sufficient to pay for it. This was the thought of the Spaniards, and those the sentiments of all the sons of the soil from the moment that, for the first time, this idea loomed in the tendencies of the politics of the North. Therefore, when a minister of the crown declared in the midst of the national representatives, on an occasion similar to the present, that selling the Island of Cuba would be equal to selling the honor of Spain, those words found an echo in all parts of the monarchy as the unanimous cry of all Spanish hearts, and from that moment they were regarded as the clearest and most precise expression of the answer to be given whenever such an absurd project should be renewed."

☞Mr. Douglas has been received with great enthusiasm at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, on his way to Washington, which City he reached on Thursday. At Baltimore he was escorted from the depot to the Gilmore House by a procession numbering 3,000 persons. He addressed the assemblage for about half an hour, and his remarks were received with enthusiastic applause.

☞The splendid Catholic Church recently erected in St. Dennis' street, Montreal, was destroyed by fire, on Tuesday night—loss $100,000.

☞The Missouri Legislature had a bill before them last week, which would no doubt pass, authorizing the Governor to call out the volunteers to protect persons and property, and to repel invasions of Kansas banditti. The bill appropriates $30,000.

Game Law.

According to the law passed at the last session of the Legislature, for the preservation of Game, &c., the season for shooting, trapping or destroying in any other way, Pheasants, Partridges, Woodcocks or Rabbits, closed on Friday the 31st ult.

The Facts of the Amistad Case.

Some twenty years ago a slave ship landed a cargo of African negroes on the Island of Cuba. They were there sold in lots "to suit purchasers." A lot was bought by two Spaniards named Ruix and Mendez, who subsequently chartered a small vessel to take them to another part of the Island. When out of sight of land, the negroes arose and took possession of the vessel and demanded to be taken back to their native home in Africa. They committed no assault upon their purchasers, further than to demand of them their release from bondage and their restoration to home, kindred and liberty. They knew nothing of navigation, and the vessel finally found its way into Long Island Sound, and was formally taken possession of by the Revenue Cutter and brought into New Haven, where the cases were tried, and the Court decided that they were entitled to their freedom, and they were subsequently set at liberty, and the two Spaniards lost their "property." If we mistake not, the late John Quincy Adams volunteered to be the counsel for the negroes, and went to New Haven and argued their case. They were declared free by the District Court of the United States, from which an appeal was taken to the full Bench of the United States Supreme Court, where the decision was affirmed.

Afterwards the Spanish Government claimed from our Government remuneration for the loss which its citizens had sustained by the decision of the Connecticut Court, and the liberation of the Africans.—Our Government recognized this claim, and the Democratic Administrations, since that day, have never failed to urge this claim upon the attention of Congress, and recommend its payment. Several Committees of both Houses of Congress have reported in favor of this claim, but Congress has never yet voted an appropriation for it.—Boston Atlas.

Pleasant Incident.—At the funeral of a little babe in New Sharon, a few days since, says the Gospel Banner, a circumstance occurred, remarkably cheering and suggestive: The little one, all beautifully robed for the grave, was laid in its coffin on the morning of its burial. The weeping friends placed in its little hand a small bouquet of flowers, among which was an unopened rose-bud of the "Rose of Sharon." The lid was then placed upon the coffin, and the funeral service performed. When after the lapse of not more than two or three hours, the coffin was opened again and the friends gathered round to look upon it for the last time, that bud had become a full blown rose, while grasped in the cold hand of death. It seemed as though a voice came up from these beautifully sealed lips, saying, "Weep not for me; though broken from the parent stem I am blooming in the Paradise of God.—Millions of infant souls compose the family above."

A Girl Ten Years Old Convicted of Manslaughter.—A few days ago two little girls, Lucy Long, a white child six years old, and Maria, a slave ten years old, were playing together at Hickman, Ky., when a brother of the white child whipped the colored girl, who, in revenge, struck Lucy with a billet of wood. Of this blow Lucy subsequently died, and Maria, the little slave, has been convicted of involuntary manslaughter, but recommended to the clemency of the Governor, in consequence of being only 10 years old.

A Very Sickly Place.—The town agent at Hartford, Conn., sold 3,338 gallons of liquor last year to citizens, under a law which forbids all sales, except to the sick.

Woman's Rights in the South.

It appears that there are strong-minded women in the South as well as in the North. In a German church in New Orleans, a difficulty of some kind arose, and a large part of the congregation refused to permit the pastor, Mr. Pressler, to preach. An injunction was procured, but he disregarded it, and on Sunday week proceeded to the church. A number of the female members opposed his entrance, and how he fared when he persisted in his determination to enter the church, is recorded by the 'Crescent' as follows:

"The ladies, it seems, were fixed for contingencies, and no sooner had his reverence forced his way into the church than they descended upon him like an avalanche, with cowhides and pepper and salt and flour and gypsum; lathering him mercilessly with the former articles, and powdering him all over with the latter. Thus beset, the preacher had but one alternative, and that was to fly from the church—an operation which he performed to the satisfaction of all. A policeman, hearing of the affair, went to see Pressler, and asked if he wished to have anybody arrested; but he declined making complaint against anybody. The richest part of the scene was, that whilst the ladies were cowhiding and flouring the preacher, their husbands and friends were standing around as quiet and unconcerned as a lot of Egyptian mummies."

Desperate Suicide at Erie, Pa.

A young man named John E. Berryman, committed suicide in Erie, on the 23d ult. He purchased two ounces of laudanum, for the ostensible use of medicine, and after inquiring the quantity for an ordinary dose, departed. Stepping into the Capitol saloon, and taking the vial which contained the laudanum, from his pocket, poured about half an ounce into a tumbler, when the tumbler was snatched from him by the man in attendance behind the bar, with the caution, 'Do not drink that! it will kill you!'

Two or three other persons had gathered around by this time. He took up another tumbler, and stepping back from the bar, poured the remaining contents of the vial into it, and warding off a person who attempted to prevent him, quickly drank the laudanum. Except being, it was thought, slightly under the influence of liquor, he appeared rational. Physicians were called in, emetics prepared, and an effort made to save him, but to no purpose. Neither force nor persuasion had any effect. He was held down and had his mouth pried open with a spoon while an emetic was emptied into it, but he blew it out. He avowed his determination to die—said he had taken the laudanum for that purpose, and if it did not kill him he would try it another time, but he would give no reason for the act.—He was taken to the house of his parents, and died in one hour and forty minutes after taking the poison.

A Desperate Fugitive.

An Escaped Murderer Blows Out his Brains.—One of the men, named Seibert, charged with murder, who recently escaped from jail at Columbus, Ohio, was discovered on Saturday last a few miles from Cincinnati by several officers. The Enquirer says:

He ran as swiftly as he could, but soon found that he would be overtaken, as he was hemmed in on every side. He then got upon a bridge of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati railroad, and told his pursuers as they drew near that if they attempted to arrest him he would kill some of them or himself, for he was determined not to be taken alive, at the same time pointing his revolver at them. The party were similarly armed, but concluding not to expose themselves recklessly, they sent for a rifle. As soon as he saw the messenger returning with the weapon, he put his revolver into his mouth and blew out his brains. The body of the desperate suicide was placed upon the cars and taken to Columbus.

Wholesale Murder by Montgomery's Band.

St. Louis, Dec. 27.—The Jeffersonville City Examiner learns from a reliable source that Fort Scott, in Kansas, on the night of the 15th instant, was attacked by Montgomery at the head of 200 men, the town taken, and five or six persons killed. The object of the attack was to release one of Montgomery's men confined there on a charge of murder. It was feared that the town would be entirely destroyed

It was reported that a band of thieves and assassins from Kansas had entered Vernon county, Missouri, killed David Cruse and stole a lot of cattle, horses, &c. About the same time two parties, under Brown and Montgomery, entered Missouri on the Little Osage river, stole a negro woman and took William Larne prisoner, but released him the next day. An express had been sent to the Governor of Missouri for assistance to protect life and property.

The Troubles in Kansas.

St Louis, Jan. 3 —It is reported that the Governor of Missouri has made a requisition upon the Governor of Kansas for Capt. Montgomery, charged with the murder of several Missourians. It is feared that a compliance with the requisition will create a civil war.

☞Governor Medary, of Kansas, has made a requisition upon the Government for a thousand troops, for the purpose of keeping order in the Territory. Though political excitement has subsided there, the spirit of ruffianism still prevails.

A "Go in" Court and Bar.—The Cincinnati Enquirer says that at a recent session of an Iowa District Court, at Burlington, an attorney at the bar collared Judge Clagget, dragged him from the bench, and was about to chastise him in a very summary way, when other parties interposed and separated them. Mr. Browning was fined $50 and sent to jail for six hours.—The attorneys refuse to transact any more business in a court where such disgraceful scenes are enacted, and the court broke up in a general row.

Outrageous Slander.—It is rumored that Mr. Rarey, the American horse tamer, uses a file of Congressional speeches to subdue the refractory animals put under his charge. After reading about a quarter of an hour the quadruped gives in, promises an entire amendment of morals and manners if he will only stop.

Horrible.

A Boy Eaten by his Own Dog.—The Laporte (Ia.) Times gives the particulars of a horrible affair in that neighborhood.—Several boys started from the residence of a German widow lady, a mile or two from town, to go to Laporte, and among them was the son of a widow. He was in liquor, and, after leaving the house, his companions discovered that he had left his hat behind him, and started him back after it.—Shortly afterwards a gentleman and lady, passing near by in a wagon, heard a moan as of a person in great agony, and at the same time heard a dog growl as if devouring something. The lady prevailed upon her husband to go and ascertain the cause, which he did, when, horrible to relate, he found the German boy alluded to down, and his own dog literally chewing him to pieces. At last accounts he was not dead, though it was scarcely possible for him to recover.

Explosion in Worcester, Mass.

Worcester, Jan. 2, 1859.—A two-story brick engine house in this city was blown up so thoroughly yesterday afternoon, with all its contents, that not one brick remains upon another. A fire had been made in the engine house the night before, and it is supposed that the gas, which had been smelling strong on the premises for a day or two, had communicated from the main pipe to the cellar, and when it reached the room where the explosion occurred, completely shattered the building to atoms.—The large school house, not twenty feet distant, had its windows on every side almost entirely blown in, and the building itself was otherwise seriously injured.

All the neighboring houses suffered in the same way; brick, stones and refuse generally flew in every direction. The concussion was perceptibly felt in every part of the city, causing general consternation.—The damage will probably be at least $10,000.

Queer Blunder.—Some months ago, among a crowd of prisoners sentenced to the Chicago house of correction, were two men, one of whom was sent up for two days, and his yoke fellow for ninety days. By some inadvertence these two got mixed up, and the two days' convict was made to serve out the other man's term of three months at stone-breaking. The victim of the mistake has sued for damages to the amount of $10,000.

☞A mule killed a Chinaman at Goodyear's Bar in California; seventeen Celestials arrested and tried the murderer, found him guilty, shot him with six balls and then clubbed its brains out. It was required to cut off the kicking leg, but the mule lying on its back they couldn't tell which was the right leg—so the jury concluded to cut off both the hind legs, and have a "dead thing."

French Emigration.—France, with a population of over thirty five millions, has furnished but a comparatively small contingent to the European emigration. During the last ten years 2,750,000 persons emigrated from Great Britain and Ireland, and from Germany 1,200,000; while France in the same period lost only 200,000 by emigration.

Clerical Punning.—Parson Twiss, of New Hampshire, had just married a lady whose name was Desire, and it being in his course of remark on a certain Sabbath to illustrate the difference between the renewed and unrenewed man in the exercise of love, he delivered himself, to the amusement of his audience, in this way: "Formerly I had no Desire to love, but now I have a Desire to love, and I love freely."

Rather Risky.—Statistics disclose the unpleasant fact that the chances of death in crossing the Atlantic in steamships are one in eighty! In the last four years 100,000 persons have made the passage in these conveyances, of which amount twelve hundred have been lost.

Sold the Baby for $50.—A man lately passed through Nashville, Tenn., with a drove of negroes destined for a southern market. In the lot there were several infants, which he did not desire to take with him, because as he said, they would injure the sale of their mothers. Some of these he disposed of here, separating them of course, from their parents.

For the sum of fifty dollars he sold to a lady in this city an infant of three months, consoling its mother with the fiendish remark that he would kill it unless he could sell it.—Nashville Gazette.

☞A lawyer at Lowell having found ninety-five dollars and returned the money to the owner, one of the papers says the act may be honest and honorable, but it is exceedingly unprofessional.

Good.—An Irishman named McCarty, at Port Chester, N. Y., attempted to run away from his wife with all the money earned by her as a washerwoman, for clothes and articles given to her to wash. Just before the cars started, Mrs. McCarty came running, and out of breath, looked over the baggage and identified her trunks. She next found her husband, collared him, gave him a severe trouncing, tore his coat off his back and ordered him to walk back home. Mr. McCarty obeyed.

☞An Editor of Indiana was attacked by a man for some personal grievance.—The editor says: 'To avoid injuring him, and prevent his injuring us, we got out of the way!' Sensible man that.

☞George C. Thorburn, the florist, will, it is said, take charge of the grounds of the Mt. Vernon estate when it shall be purchased by the ladies.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

Consumption of Smoke and Gas, and Saving of Fuel.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the public that he has added to his former variety of Stoves, a new Patented Gas-burning COOKING STOVE.—It is well known that all inflammable matter requires a certain amount of air to support combustion, and if the supply is insufficient, it is impossible to produce a flame.—The heat of the fire, in ordinary cooking stoves, decomposes the fuel, and as all the fresh air is admitted under the grate, its oxygen is exhausted before it has passed through the fire-chamber. The close flues at the top of the stove then act as an extinguisher, tending to put out the fire instead of assisting the combustion. A large portion of the fuel, therefore, passes off in the shape of smoke, clogging up the fues of the stove so as to impede the draft and interfere with the baking,—or of the invisible gas which combines with the lime and so destroys the mortar of the chimneys, loosening the bricks, and exposing the dwellings to the danger of fire.

The introduction of an additional supply of cold air, would cool the gas below the igniting temperature, but by the proper application above the fire, of air previously heated to a temperature for several hundred degrees (which is one of the prominent features of the patent,) the gases are inflamed in numerous jets, and their combustion is sufficient to heat the oven, even if the draft through the fire-chamber is entirely closed.

In addition to the ordinary direct draft under the grate and through the fire-chamber, the gas-burner has an additional draft through the top plates, which is of itself sufficient to mantain combustion. The upper draft not only consumes the gases, but it helps to strengthen and preserve the centra-pieces, which are most exposed to the direct action of the fire, and which are made double instead of the usual single plates.—By means of this draft only, all the operations of cooking can be carried on when the fuel is but partially ignited, and the fuel consequently burns more slowly and more economically.

A sufficient evidence of the effect of the gases in heating the oven, is found in the fact that the oven will be ready for baking, even before the fire is thoroughly kindled, and much sooner than in any other stove.

As Gas burning Stoves are the order of the day, the Gas-burning Cooking Stove will not only be the leading stove of the present season, but it will undoubtedly supersede all others. Purchasers will, therefore, consult their own interests, by seeing and examining it before giving orders elsewhere. The operation is so perfect, and its advantages are so easily to be seen and understood, that it readily commands at retail, an advance of five or six dollars over the retail price of any stove of the same size.

Also, on hand a variety of PARLOR COAL STOVES—cheap.

CATTLE POWDER.

BRENIG, FRONFIELD & CO'S CATTLE MEDICINES have been throughly tested and pronounced unsurpassed and unsurpassable. None other as useful have been introduced during the century.

Whilst farmers are using every effort, and investing large amounts of money in the improvement of their soils, too little attention is generally paid to the health and development of farm Stock.

Brenig, Fronfield & Co. justly claim being the first, in this country, who devoted their attention to this important subject. Their VEGETABLE CATTLE POWDER was the result of several years' study and experimenting—which experiments have actually shown that, by feeding this Powder, a Cow will yield from 1 to 2½ pounds butter per week more than when she does not get the powder; all other conditions alike. The same increase is proportionably produced in the fattening of cattle or swine.

It is used with equal profit for Horses, Cattle and Hogs. No farmer, or feeder of any kind, should be without it a day.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, of the New-York Lung Infirmary.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Polmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and persona friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satis faction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c. &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas; TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz.: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRET, M.D.,

No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where one improved apparatus for the inhalation of medical vapor can be seen and inspected.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER,

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST!

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY gray hair to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head, removes all dandruff itching and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy; and will preserve it to an imaginable age, removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2d, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. EVERY BOTTLE WE HAVE SOLD SEEMS TO HAVE PRODUCED THREE OR FOUR NEW CUSTOMERS and the approbation, and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convince us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen $2 size; and believe us very respectfully.

(Signed) DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

HICKOY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo., Nov. 19, 1856.

PROF O. J. WOOD—Dear S : Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative. we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAN.
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAN.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My Hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind. Yours Respectfully,

DANIEL N. MURPHY.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded entirely from GUMS,

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, that accomplishing two purposes effectuall, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the out system suffers in consequence of one organ—the Liver—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with Liver Complaint, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented, by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure dyspepsia.

☞One dose of two tea-spoonsful will relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Chalic while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

☞Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in Children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

☞A few bottles cures Dropsy, by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious Type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

☞Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

The Liver Invigorator

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is reqired to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION,

PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution established by special Endowment for the Relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases

THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deception practiced upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give Medical Advice Gratis to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.) and in cases of extreme poverty, to FURNISH MEDICINES FREE OF CHARGE. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors of the Association, in their Annual Report upon the treatment of Sexual Diseases, for the year ending January 1st, 1858, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the Consulting Surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self-abuse, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important and much despised cause.

An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation, or Self-abuse, and other diseases of the sexual organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt of two Stamps for postage. Other Reports and Tracts on the nature and treatment of sexual diseases, diet, &c., are constantly being published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent to the afflicted. Some of the new remedies and methods of treatment discovered during the last year, are of great value.

Address Dr. George R. Calhoun, consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.
